CONGRESS.

THIRTY-THIRD CONGRESS-FIRST SESSION Senate, Monday, Feb. 13, 1854.

The Secretary read a letter from the Hon.

D. R. Atchison, requesting Mr. Bright to preside for the day. No objection being made, Mr. Bright took the chair.

Mr. Everett presented the memorial of over fourteen hundred citizens of Worcester county, Massachusetts, against the passage of the Ne-braska and Kanzas Territorial bill. He said that among the signers was the present Governor of the State, and the Hon. John Davis, late Senator of the United States, also the Hon Levi Lincoln. He said that he had no doubt but the memorial truly presented the unani-mous opinion of the people of that section of

Mr. Seward presented the remonstrance ninety legal voters of Niagara county, New York, against the repeal of the Missouri Com-promise. Also, two similar petitions from citi-

York, against the repeal of the Missouri Compromise. Also, two similar petitions from citizens of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Foot presented a like remonstrance from citizens of Windham county, Vermont.

Mr. Clayton, a like remonstrance from citizens of Delaware.

Mr. Summer, the remonstrance of two hundred and thirteen citizens of Concord, Massachusetts, and seventy-three citizens of North Taunton, in the same State, to the same effect.

Mr. Chase presented six memorials from citizens of Ohio and Indiana, and the proceedings of a public meeting at Cleveland, Ohio, all against the repeal of the Missouri Compromise.

Mr. Brodhead presented eleven like petitions from citizens of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Benjamin presented the memorial of citizens of Indiana, praying for leave to institute a suit against the United States, to test the liability of the United States for the debts of bility of the United States for the debts of Texas.

Mr. Bell presented the memorial of citizens of Tennessee, in favor of a repeal of all duties on railroad iron, or the extension of time for the payment of the same.

Mr. Badger introduced a bill providing for the removal of obstructions in the mouth of Cape Fear river, North Carolina.

Mr. Fitzpatrick and Mr. Clay introduced bills granting land to Alabama to aid in the construction of railroads in that State.

Mr. Fish presented the memorial of citizens of New York, asking a modification of the revenue laws, so far as they provide for the forfeiture of the vessel from which shall be illegally landed goods valued at $400.

The Senate then resumed the consideration of the bill to establish a Territorial Government for Nebraska.

ment for Nebraska.

Mr. Weller said he had no intention to reply

Mr. Weller said he had no intention to reply to the extraordinary speech delievered in the Senate on Thursday and Friday. The personal relations existing between him and the Senator from Connecticut prevented any controversy between them in the Senate. He believed the organization of these Territorial Governments between them in the Senate. He believed the organization of these Territorial Governments in Nebraska and Kansas as absolutely indispensable to the safety and protection of the numerous emigrants who annually cross them to the shores of the Pacific. The great annual emigration from Europe to this country would find homes in these Territories, and build up States in the centre of the Confederacy. The fact that of the Indians now inhabiting the territory a large number had been removed there under a promise of a permanent home, was a serious objection; but it was one which could be easily provided for, in a spirit of justice and humanity, by this bill. It was a melancholy reflection that the Indian race was to be swept away, but it was nevertheless true.

The question whether the Ordinance of 1787 was effectual over the territory to which it was intended to apply, had been much controverted. He knew that the people of Indiana and Illinois made frequent appeals to Congress to withdraw its prohibition of Slavery, and that Congress refused it. The Senator from Ohio [Mr. Chase] placed this refusal on the ground that Congress considered the law irrepealable, and had quoted from a report made by the celebrated Mr. Randolph. He thought the Senator should have read more of that report, and that it made the acceptance that it made the senator should have read more of that report, and that it made the acceptance that it made the senator should have read more of that report, and the senator should have read more of that report, and the senator should have read more of that report, and the senator should have read more of that report, and the senator should have read more of that report, and the senator should have read more of that report, and the senator should have read more of that report, and the senator should have read more of that report, and the senator should have read more of that report, and the senator should have read more of that report, and the senator should have read more of the senator should have read mor

Senator should have read more of that report, and then it would have been seen that it was refused on the ground that Slavery would not be proper for the soil and climate of these States. Between 1810 and 1820, the number of slaves in Indiana and Illinois was greatly

He was no party to the Missouri Compro-mise, which was adopted at a time when dan-ger to the Union was threatened. He was in no way bound by that act. He was under no obligations to abide by it. It was adopted by men who had the same political power, and no more, than he now had. The Compromise of 1850 was adopted under like circumstances, and by it he was in no way bound. They were inconsistent; and if compelled to choose between them, he would prefer the latter, which had received the approval of the people of the United States in the election of 1852.

Those Senators who now so strenuously maintained the inviolability of the Missouri Compromise, at the last session voted to violate the Compromise of 1850, by repealing the Fugitive Slave Law. No man could deny but the repeal of that act would dissolve the Union. When the time arrived when the North would tell the South that it could not pursue and reclaim in the free States its escaped property, then the lime for the dissolution of the Union would have arrived as it ought to would have arrived, as it ought to.

He was born and educated in a free State.
He deprecated the existence of Slavery, but he had no prejudices against anything but wint was unconstitutional.

was unconstitutional.

He denied that he had ever seen anythir demoralizing in Slavery. He compared the morals and patriotism of the South with the North, and held that the former was equally high, whether with reference to its males or females.

Slavery existed in Vermont and other free States in 1800, and he did not believe it would have ever been abolished there, had it not been found to be unprofitable. The proposition to exclude Slavery north of 36 deg. 30 min. was no more just than it would be if the South was to propose that Slavery should never be ex-oluded north of that line.

This was not a contest between Slavery and Freedom, but whether the people should be allowed to decide for themselves. It would be allowed to decide for themselves. It would be a mockery to give them the power when a State, and deny it during the term of the Territorial organization. He was a native of Ohio, and some of his dearest feelings were connected with her interests, but he considered she had committed an egregious error in sending to the Senate two Abolitionists.

He denounced all political Abolitionists. He never knew one, who was a practical political never knew one, who was a practical political Abolitionist, but who, in social life, was an intermeddler with his neighbors' affairs. He was not a Northern man with Southern principles. He was one who believed there was no safety for this union, except in the mainte-nance of the Constitution.

nance of the Constitution.

Mr. Houston got the floor, but said he was too indisposed to go on to-day.

The subject was postponed till to-morrow.

Mr. Gwin gave notice of a Deficiency bill.

On motion of Mr. Slidell, the Senate proceeded to the consideration of a bill granting land to Louisiana, to aid in the construction of a railroad in that State; and a debate ensued on a motion by Mr. Bayard to postpone it.

The Senate then went into Executive session, and, after some time spent therein, the sion, and, after some time spent therein, the doors were opened, and the Senate adjourned.

Mr. J. Glancy Jones, of Pennsylvania, member elect from the 8th District of that State, to supply the place made vacant by the death of the late Hon. H. A. Muhlenberg, ap-to supply the place made vacant by the death of the late Hon. H. A. Muhlenberg, appeared, and was qualified as a member of this body.

Mr. Washburne, of Illinois, asked leave to present the memorial of citizens of Savannah, in that State, against the admission of Nebraska and Kansas, in defiance of the stipulations of the Missouri Compromise.

Objection being made, the memorial was not received at this time.

The Speaker announced that the committees would now be called upon for resolutions, &c.

Mr. Breckenridge moved a suspension of the rules, to enable him to present a Deficiency bill, which he explained to be substantially the same as that originally presented by the Committee of Ways and Means, but without the amendments made in Committee of the Whole.

On the submission of this motion, a scene of indescribable excitement, confusion, and disorder, arose. The Chair was addressed and interrogated by several members at a time.

"Order" was repeatedly called. Speakers were interrupted—gentlemen arose to order, &n. Messrs. Breckenridge, McMullen, Taylor, &n. Messrs. Breckenridge, McMullen, Taylor, Stephens of Georgia, Campbell, Hamilton, Orr, Peckham, Disney, Robins, and others, participated in these proceedings.

At length, the question on the suspension of the rules was taken, and decided in the negative—yeas 107, nays 72—there not being two-thirds in the affirmative.

the rules was taken, and decided in the negative—yeas 107, nays 72—there not being two-thirds in the affirmative.

Mr. Breekenridge then moved a suspension of the rules to enable him to move to take up the motion to reconsider the vote by which the Deficiency bill was rejected, which was laid on the table on Thursday last. In other words, the Deficiency bill was, on Thursday last, defeated on a motion to engress it for a third reading; and a motion to reconsider that vote reading; and a motion to engross it for a third reading; and a motion to reconsider that vote was, on motion, laid on the table. The object is, by successive steps, to get back to and take up the defeated bill, for renewed consideration. Rejected—yeas 102, nays 77.

Mr. Clingman moved a suspension of the rules, to enable him to present a resolution, asking information relative to custom-houses the revenues of which do not exceed expenses.

the revenues of which do not exceed expenses.

Mr. Wentworth moved the suspension of the rules, to enable him to offer a resolution requiring the Committee of Ways and Means, when it makes any change in estimates from any of the Departments to give in writing its reasonable.

when it makes any change in estimates from any of the Departments, to give in writing its reasons therefor. Refused.

Mr. Mace moved a suspension of the rules, to enable him to propose a resolution appointing a Select Committee to inquire into any mistakes or frauds that may have been committed in connection with the transportation of the mails, by the Collins or other steamers. The rules were suspended, and the resolution was adopted.

Mr. Florence asked leave to present the same memorial; which was refused; but he was permitted to make an explanation, which he did by saying that he was opposed to the object of the memorialists, not believing that Slavery would be introduced into Nebraska in consequence of the passage of the bill named in the memorial; but that the people from whom this memorial comes are of the highest respectful ty and worth, and merit the most respectful hearing.

Mr. Bocock proposed a joint resolution, to the effect that no contract shall be made by the Navy Department with any person not a regular dealer in or manufacturer of the articles contracted for. Referred to the Naval Com-

Printing be instructed to inquire into the ex-pediency of printing so much of the report of the Secretary of the Treasury as relates to the tariff. Adopted.

Mr. Ashe moved a resolution, to the effect that the Committee on Commerce inquire into the expediency of enabling the town of Wilmington, North Carolina, to impose a tonnage duty for the improvement of that harbor.

Mr. Cobb, of Alabama, proposed a resolution, instructing the Committee of Ways and Means to report back House bill No. 25, giving a credit on the duty on railroad iron upon the payment of six per cent.; which motion was laid upon the table.

On motion of Mr. Taylor, of Ohio, it was resolved that the Committee on Military Affairs.

solved that the Committee on Military Affairs be instructed to inquire into the expediency of transferring the Military Asylum near this city to Mount Vernon.

Mr. Preston submitted a resolution recommending the provision of suitable punishment for the forgery of land warrants, and that the Department be authorized to make new grants to the parties defrauded. Referred.

Mr. Stanton, of Kentucky, moved a resolution authorizing the appointment of a Select Committee of Inquiry, of seven members, on the propriety of appointing military superintendents for the public works of various kinds, including armories, light houses, water-works, and various edifices; which was agreed to.

BY THE MORNING'S MAIL.

The Franklin Canal - Prohibition.

Harrisburg. Frs. 11.—The Governor sent in a long special message to the Legislature this morning, in relation to the Commonwealth's taking possession of the railroad of the Franklin Canal Company. He states that the company protested against his act, and averred their intention of contesting the law repealing their charter before the Supreme Court. The message is strongly in favor of the break of gauge in the railroads at Erie.

In the Senate to-day, the Prohibitory Liquor Law was up. The first section, prohibiting the manufacture or sale of liquors, was adopted by a vote of 16 to 14. The next six sections passed also. On the 8th section, authorizing a HARRISBURG, FEB. 11 .- The Governor sent

WORMS! WORMS!

Various theories have been started relative to the origin of intestinal worms, and yet the question one fact, however, all are informed, and in which all agree—the fatal nature of the influence they exert on children. At this season of the year, the attacks of worms are most frequent as well as most dangerous. We take great pleasure in directing the attention of parents to the Vermifuge of Dr. McLane. It is one of the most extraordinary medicines ever introduced to the public, and has never failed of success when

Purchasers will please be careful to ask for DR. McLANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE, and take none else. All other Vermifuges, in comparison, are worthless. Dr. McLane's genuine Vermifuge, also his celebrated Liver Pills, can now be had at all respectable Drug Stores in the United States and Canada.

COOKERY AS IT SHOULD BE

A new manual of the dining-room and kitchen, containing original recipes in every branch of cookery, domestic beverages, food for invalids, pickling, &c. Together with bill of fare for every day in the year, rules for carving, &c., by a Practical Housekeeper, and pupil of Mrs. Goodfellow. With appropriate illustrations. 12me, cloth or half-bound, 75 cents.

Cookery as it should be? Ah, well, that's a pretty bold title! And a dubious one, too, oxclaims another, for if the authoress is going to tell us what it should be, that will be nothing new, for we all know by daily experience what it should and could be, but what it is not. Well, she tells you what it should be, and how to make it so; and in short, plain, practical, and simple rules, such as the result of a long and constantly active experience in providing for the daily wants of a large household, enables her to do in the very best manner. Every one who has eaten at our authorese's board will bear ample testimony to the excellent qualities of the many good things she daily sets before them, prepared under her own saperintendence, and the rules for making which she herein sets forth.

The recipes of the world-renowned Mrs. Goodfellow, for cakes, pastry, and sweetmeats, are now for the first time collected together for the benefit of all who desire to be good housekeepers.

In short, this new Cook Book is offered to the public as the best which has ever been prepared, and the public as the best which has ever been prepared, and the public as the best which has ever been prepared, and the public as the best which has ever been prepared, and the public has trial, confident that they will recommend it to their friends as the only practical Cook Book of which they can make daily use in all their household duties.

THE subscriber offers for sale his Farm, situated about five miles from Washington, D. C., in Prince George's county, Md. It contains 178; acres, more than 30 of which is a fine alluvial meadow, producing a ton and a half of hay to the acre, but which under improved cultivation would produce at least two tons. Hay sells in the Washington market at from $15 to $30 per ton. About four acres of the place is a marsh, covered with several feet in thickness of black earth, the result of decayed vegetation, which, properly composted, is a source from which the upland may be enriched at a reasonable cost. About 60 acres of the farm is woodland—growth principally oak and chestnut. The land, except the meadow, is undulating, and affords many beautiful sites for building. There are many springs of excellent water on the place, and it is noted for its healthfulness. The soil of the greater part of the upland is a sandy loam, underlaid by clay—in some places, clay predominating. About 75 acres could be divided into small gardening farms, giving nearly an equal quantity of wood and arable land to each. There is an orehard of 150 peach trees and 60 apple trees on the place, all bearing. The farm is well fenced. The buildings are—a log house of four reoms, with a frame addition of three rooms, a meat-house of sun-dried brick, a log kitchen separate from the dwelling, a corn-house, stable, carriage-house, &c. There is a stream of water running through the place, with sufficient water and fall for a small mill. Price, $50 per acre. SEGARS! SEGARS!

"I can't get a decent Segar in Washingtm,"

Is a phrase hourly heard from strangers, in our city
Without admitting or denying its truth, the subscriber determined to remedy the evil. To this end, he has made a list of every brand which any gentleman has pronounced "the best segar I ever smoked," and with this decument he has procured from the first importers in New York, a stock of these choice brands, and now offers them to the public.

Every fumigator, who knows a good segar when he smells it, is requested to call and examine the stock.

REMOVAL!

HEMOVAL!

HENRY JANNEY'S Boot and Shoe Store and Manufactory, for the last ten years located on 8th street, near the General Post Office, was removed to Pennsylvania Avenue, between Browns' Hotel and 7th street, where the proprietor has spared no pains or expense in fitting up an establishment commensurate with the great increase in the business of the house. The subscriber tenders his most cordial and grate

HENRY JANNEY

SHOE DEALER, and Fashionable Boot Maker, Pennsylvania Avenue, between Browns' Hotel and Seventh street, Washington. Jan 2—3m

The subscriber tenders his most cordial and grateful acknowledgments to his friends and patrons for their long-continued favors, and will be pleased to meet them in his new house.

I have a very well-assorted stock of Boots and Shoes, of French, New York, Eastern, and my own make, embracing every style and variety, to which I invite the attention of members of Congress, and citizens generally.

HENRY JANNEY.

Penn. av., north side, between Browns' Hotel Jan. 2 and 7th st., third door from the latter.

From the United States Argus. From the United States Argus.

To those persons who may visit Washington, and are in want of a boot that cannot be excelled, either in quality or workmanship, we would call their attention to the card of Henry Janney, to be found under the head of "Washington." A landsome and neatly-made boot is not at all times a source of pleasure to the wearer, but often one of extreme torture; this is caused by the bungling manner in which the boot is fitted to the foot. Mr. Janney has devoted much of his time in studying the construction of the human foot, in order to ascertain how a boot should be cut and fitted, that will be perfectly easy to all parts of the foot. In this he has succeeded, so that it matters not what may be the shape of, or the number of corns on the foot, his boot is perfectly easy. Thus he has combined beauty with comfort.

TO THE CONSUMERS OF DRY GOODS Who Seek their Supplies in our Market.

ONE PRICE ONLY. We are now in our NEW STORE, which was erected expressly for us. We think it the most comfortable and best lighted storeroom in the city; and with increased room, facilities, and experience, deemed quite ample, we shall deal largely in PORRIGN AND DOMESTIC DRY GOODS, of every style, all of the best qualities, and for which of every style, all of the best qualities, and for which we shall have one price only.

We shall sell cheaper than we ever have done; and in having one price only (which, in our opinion, is the only fair and equitable way of doing business) we shall maintain our self-respect, which is above all price or success. Moreover, we expect to retain all the trade of those prompt customers who have made their purchases of us for some years past, and doubtless we shall have a large accession of now customers, who prefer to buy where one fair price only is asked.

We feel that our simple word is requisite only to satisfy our former customers that the one price years. satisfy our former customers that the one price sys-tem is the correct one, and to their advantage; and we do not hesitate to assert our belief that all candid we do not hesitate to assert our belief that all candid and intelligent persons will after an impartial exam-ination of prices, fabric, and styles, give a one price store the preference. Those who are not judges of goods cannot fail to be impressed at once with the manifold and vast advantages to the purchaser re-sulting from the adoption in good faith of the one price system; it necessarily insures low prices to the purchaser, for it becomes absolutely necessary to meet at the start all competition that can be offered in prices.

Our scale of prices will be so low, and the profits so small, that we cannot and will not sell but for the cash or to customers who pay promptly. For those who purchase very largely, or to sell again, reductions will be made.

The public are cordially and most respectfully invited to call at all times and examine our stock.
